Code	Identifier	Description
TR100 - Assessment, Development, and Administration
TR110	Fact Investigation and Development	All actions to investigate and understand the facts of a matter that are not included under another trademark task code below. Covers initial meeting to discuss new matter, interview of client personnel and potential witnesses, review of documents to learn the facts of a potential case, work with an investigator, and all related communications and correspondence.
TR120	Analysis/Strategy	The thinking, strategizing, and planning for a case that is not included under other trademark task codes below. Includes discussions, writing, and meetings on case strategy. Also includes initial legal research for case assessment purposes and legal research for developing a basic case strategy. Most legal research and/or other activity will be under the primary task for which the research is conducted, such as research for a response to an office action under TR430 and TR630 respectively.
TR130	Document/File Management	A narrowly defined task that includes creating and populating document and other databases or filing systems, that does not fit under other task codes below. Includes the planning, design, and overall management of this process. Work of outside vendors in building litigation support databases should be an expense under E100. Calendaring (or "docketing" in the U.S.) should be included under the appropriate task codes below for each matter unless, otherwise instructed by the client.
TR140	Budgeting	Covers developing, negotiating, and revising the budget for a matter that does not fit under other task codes below. Cost estimates which are included as part of other activities, such as reporting an Official Communication from a Trademark Office, should be included under the appropriate task codes below, unless otherwise instructed by the client.
TR199	Other Assessment, Development, or Administration	Use only for assessment, development, administration and other activities that can not be included under a previous code, or as instructed by the client.
TR200 - Trademark Investigation and Analysis
TR220	Registerability Investigation	All actions associated with determining the initial availability and registerability of a particular trademark, including the definition of the scope of protection, searching, analyzing search results, and reporting results to the client. Also known as a "knock out" search, or 'preliminary' search, it is the most general type of trademark search which usually encompasses a review of trademark registry records, such as pending trademark applications, active trademark registrations, and abandoned trademark applications and registrations. Preliminary searches are conducted to determine if a full clearance investigation is warranted under TR230. Work of outside vendors in conducting searches or otherwise assisting the investigation should be an expense under E100. Any formal opinion should be prepared under TR710.
TR230	Clearance Investigation	All actions associated with determining the final availability and registerability of a particular trademark, including definition of the scope of protection, searching, analyzing the search results, and reporting the results to the client. Also known as a "full" search, a clearance search is the broadest type of trademark search which includes review of pending trademark applications, active trademark registrations, abandoned trademark applications and registrations, public and corporate records, government publications and various databases. Any formal opinion should be prepared under TR710. Work of outside vendors in conducting searches or otherwise assisting investigation should be an expense under E100.

TR240	Opposition Investigation	All actions associated with investigating a claim or potential claim of trademark opposition, trademark infringement or trademark dilution before a trademark office tribunal, including definition of the scope of the investigation, searching, analyzing the search results, and reporting the search results to the client. Work of outside vendors in conducting searches or otherwise assisting the investigation should be an expense under E100. This code set is for determining the facts and recommendations of an opposition matter. Any formal opinion should be prepared under TR710. Any subsequent work completed in a contested matter would be completed under TR440 or TR640 respectively.
TR250	Publication Watches	All actions associated with planning, completing, and reporting the results of periodic searches for conflicting trademarks. For example, this may include monitoring the file history of trademark applications, and/or publication for opposition. Work of outside vendors in conducting searches or otherwise assisting the investigation should be expensed under E100.
TR260	Enforcement Investigation	All actions associated with investigating a claim or potential claim of trademark infringement, dilution or unfair competition before a court of jurisdiction, including definition of the scope of the investigation, searching, analyzing the search results, and reporting the search results to the client. Work of outside vendors in conducting searches or otherwise assisting the investigation should be an expense under E100. This code set is for determining the facts and recommendations of an enforcement matter. Any subsequent work completed in a contested matter would be expensed under general litigation codes. Any formal opinion should be prepared under TR710.
TR270	Status Investigation	All actions associated with determining the status of a pending or registered trademark, including inquiries with the trademark office, directing outside counsel and database review, and forwarding status report to the client. Includes annuities or maintenance fee status investigations. Work of outside vendors in conducting searches or otherwise assisting the investigation should be an expense under E100.
TR299	Other Trademark Investigation and Analysis	Use only for trademark investigation and analysis activities that can not be included under a previous code or as instructed by the client.
	TR300 - Domestic Trademark Application Preparation
TR310	Application Preparation and Filing - Domestic	All actions associated with completing a trademark or service mark application (including renewal applications) that is to be filed in the ("domestic") home country or region of the applicant, including obtaining the specimen of use from the client, scanning the specimen for electronic filing, discussion with the client to ascertain the dates of first use and first use in commerce, drafting and revision of the application, preparation and filing of the application by electronic or paper formats, and reporting the results to the client. This section includes all domestic trademark and service mark applications filed on the Principal or Supplemental Register. Note that government fees and external expenses (or "disbursements" in the U.S.) are included under E100.
TR399	Other Domestic Trademark Application Preparation and Filing	Use only for trademark application preparation activities that can not be included under a previous code or as instructed by the client.
